2017 ROI INDUSTRY 4.0 AWARDS CHINA—Summary

The ROI Industry 4.0 Awards have been carried out in Germany since 2013 to honor industry 4.0 solutions in the manufacturing industry. The participants of the competition were companies, that successfully implemented 4.0 solutions in their production system, either as a whole or within a defined pilot section. To honor industrial progress in China, in 2017 ROI & ringierevents bring the Awards to China.

Decided it is. In total, 30 companies had signed up for the competition, 15 passing to the second round and examined in detail, and on-site visits were carried out to a short list of 6 finalists. And out of those, the 5 Winners of the ROI Industry were chosen, during the Award Ceremony on Oct. 17th at the Longemont Shanghai.

At the same time the Global Smart Factory Summit 2017 was held with more than 150 industry experts from the end user enterprises of automotive, electronics, machinery, etc., servo systems suppliers, software equipment vendors, government, associations and media gathered together to discuss the latest market trends in technology, processing and application in smart factory.

2017 ROI INDUSTRY 4.0 AWARDS CHINA——Best Quotes

ADVANTECH

Advantech

Mr. Allan Tsay the GM of Advantech in China said at the receiving award, "Transforming to Industry 4.0 is a dynamic process, which requires constant input and quick adjustments, to allow the enterprise to keep the leading position on the market. At present, the company is accelerating the global strategy layout of industry 4.0, and plans to complete the smart factory upgrade next year, which will promote the industrial upgrading with consulting services of 'war room 2.0', 'iFactory SRP 2.0' and IoT. "

TLD

TLD Asia Ltd

Dr. Thomas Dorn, CEO Asia, TLD Asia Ltd, shares the company's results in industry 4.0. As one of the winners of this "industry 4.0 outstanding contribution award", the company has been outstanding in integrating the whole value chain. Dr Thomas introduced the production and inspection online system (PIO) of tengda. "This system is used to realize real-time management of seamless information flow in two important directions: one is the longitudinal flow of information between customers, factories and suppliers; The second is the horizontal flow of information between design, supply chain, planning, production and quality inspection. PIO allows real-time access and historical traceability of the entire production process, as well as improvements in quality, process improvement, and cost and time savings. True "seamless connection from customer to factory to supplier."
